

Active response to frequency deviation (FRT)

When the grid frequency changes and exceeds the threshold, the PCS should actively adjust the active power output. The corresponding curve is shown as below.

A) Power response to over frequency

B) Power response to under frequency

